

OSIANE

The main event dedicated to digital and innovation in central Africa

10th edition "KOKOBA - Creating high added value ecosystems"

June 2 to 5, 2026 - Grand Hôtel de Kintélé, Brazzaville

Osiane

10 years serving digital technology in Africa

In a vision held by the President of Republic of Congo, Denis Sassou-Nguesso, the NGO PRATIC (Promotion, Reflection and Analysis on Information and Communication Technologies) in partnership with the Regulation of Posts and Electronic Communications (ARPCE) in Republic of Congo, organize since 2017 the International Forum OSIANE. In 2026 OSIANE will celebrate its 10th edition highlighting a decade of engagement toward the digital transformation in Africa.

The Forum stands as the leading technology and innovation platform in Central Africa that brings together the driving forces of African digital ecosystem: public decision-makers, technology companies, startups, financial institutions, academics, and civil society organizations.

10 years of cooperation with the actors tech from Africa

The meeting of decision-makers who shape tech in Africa

OSIANE is the reference platform where public and private actors who structure the digital ecosystem of Central Africa meet:

- Members of the governments of African countries
- Leaders of national and international public institutions
- Digital development agencies
- Regulators of the electronic communications and internet sectors
- Telecom operators
- International institutions and development partners
- Ambassadors in the Congo Basin territory
- Managers of national and international employers

A strategic platform for business acceleration and visibility

Today, the Forum is an international business hub that facilitates partnerships between African stakeholders and the west.

Each edition has connected hundreds of companies, highlighted thousands of talents and stimulated structuring projects in essential areas such as connectivity, fintech, cybersecurity, AI, digital transformation, digital education, etc.

Osiane Business Connect

Where strategic opportunities arise in Congo

OSIANE Business Connect is an exclusive feature of the 10th edition of the OSIANE International Forum designed for investors, business leaders and donors wishing to identify high-potential business opportunities in Congo.

On the program:

- Targeted B2B and B2G meetings with public and private decision-makers
- Strategic visits to key companies in priority sectors of the economy
- Discovery of projects and companies seeking financing
- Privileged access to the Congolese economic and entrepreneurial ecosystem

A structured and confidential framework for understanding the market, securing partnerships and investing with impact.

The Congo Basin Startup challenge, a springboard for impactful startups

Through the Congo Basin Startup Challenge, OSIANE places innovative entrepreneurship at the heart of the region's strategic challenges. Coming from the four corners of Central Africa, the best startups pitch their project in front of an experienced jury with funding for their project at stake.

The challenge offers participants:

- Visibility among public and private decision-makers
- Partnership and financing opportunities
- Privileged access to the tech & innovation ecosystem
- A springboard to move from idea to scale

But also the meeting point of talents and the new tech generation

OSIANE is also a popular and inclusive event, open to all those who want to take part in the digital future of Africa.

The Forum massively attracts:

- Young students in search of digital skills
- Passionate about technology and innovation
- The general public eager to discover new uses of digital
